

He Sees You

by Kirk Franklin

Intro:

Alright, Alright
Everything will be alright

Verse 1:

*I'm not perfect
Even at my best, I don't deserve Him
When everything's a mess under the surface
He never makes me feel ashamed
When I'm hurting
He handles every question in my searching
Even when I wonder if He's working
He takes all of the fear away
So when you think that you're stuck
In the place you're standing*

Chorus:

He sees
Everything that you're gonna be
He's healing every lie you believed
He sees you
He sees you
And He knows
Your future, so He's pulling you close
He is your defender, I know
He sees you
He sees you

He Sees You

by Kirk Franklin

Verse 2:

Different voices

Have tried to label you just by your choices

But I am here to tell you that you're chosen

His love's calling out your name

So when you think that you're stuck

In the place you're standing

[CHORUS]

Bridge:

Bring your burdens (bring your burdens)

Bring your shame (bring your shame)

Lay it down (lay it down)

At his feet, oh (at his feet)

You are a child of the living God

Of the living God

Bring your worries (bring your worries)

And fear of failing (fear of failure)

Lay it down (lay it down)

No more waiting (no more waiting)

You are a child of the living God

Of the living God

[CHORUS]
